THEATRICAL OFFERINGS

'S. R. O.' SIGN PUT UP AT BIJOU

Honolulu turned out right royally last night to the initial presentation of "Tillie's Punctured Romance" at the Bijou theater, the "S. R. O." sign being displayed early in the evening, and many were turned away on account of no seats being left. However, it is a safe bet that those who were disappointed last night will return to the Bijou before the week is over, as their friends who were fortunate enough to secure accommodations will tell them what a "scream" this picture really is. Had the press agent remarked that this picture was one continuous laugh of 6000 feet duration, he would have come near the mark. From the moment the inimitable Marie Dressler appears on the screen, in the role of an unsophisticated country maid of uncertain age, through her "romantic" wanderings and until she bids the audience "good night" after her rescue from drowning, there are but few feet of film that does not carry laughs—note the plural.

Everybody who knows the animated stage knows that Marie Dressler just lives to make folks laugh. Every photo-play fan deserving of the name knows the same of Charlie Chaplin.

When Marie Dressler is not earning laughs in the role of "Tillie," Charlie Chaplin is doing so in the role of "Charlie," or Mabel Normand is on the job, with the same idea in view, or one of the numerous other members of the cast is busy getting laughs.

To tell the story of the trials and tribulations which fall to the lot of Tillie from the moment she meets Charlie until she bids him to "skid-doo," would be to spoil a lot of good healthy enjoyment for those who contemplate a visit to the Bijou during the run of this great photo-play.

The light plot which runs through the story of Tillie's romance is just sufficient to introduce the comedy that Marie Dressler, Charlie Chaplin and Mabel Normand are able to handle with the ability of pastmasters of the order of laugh getters. The claim is made that "Tillie's Punctured Romance" shattered all records for attendance on the Coast. There is no reason for it not doing likewise in Honolulu.

Other films are shown at the Bijou and good ones, but the all-star cast production provides all the entertainment the most exacting could desire to crowd into one evening.

'MARKED WOMAN' POWERFUL DRAMA

Vividly depicting an incident that has almost passed into forgotten history, and at the same time telling a highly interesting story of the power of a woman's revenge and the possibilities of her sacrifice, "The Marked Woman," the photo-play offering at Ye Liberty theater for the first half of the week, was well received by a large audience last night.

This was the initial presentation of this Shubert feature, from the pen of Owen Davis. It is a strong and daring drama and the title role is most efficiently handled by Barbara Tennant.

Olga Petros, "The Marked Woman," loses a brother, he being killed by a band of Cosacks in a peaceful little Russian hamlet. She swears revenge and becomes a member of a secret organization to avenge the death of her brother. On her way to the S. Navy she meets a man, an Ensign, who is a Russian. He becomes her willing ally.

The reaching Port Arthur Olga is caught in a raid of the Nihilists' headquarters but is saved from the horrors of Siberia through the kindness of the Russian Ambassador, who sends her to safety to Kan Yow Way, a Chinese friend of the ambassador.

Meanwhile the Boxer uprising is well under way and the junk in which Olga is traveling is wrecked and the girl is washed ashore.

Here she meets Prince Ching, a powerful leader in his own section. Ching is in a position to carry out a threat against the lives of the Russian Ambassador and Lieut. Dare. In order to save them Olga marries the prince, feeling that she owes the ambassador a great deal for his kindness.

Four years elapse and in the meantime Olga has a son. The mean-while Prince Ching has been hunting for the girl he adores but when he finds her she refuses to leave her husband. The photo-play ends in a most unusual manner, with sadness.

The fourth episode of the "Exploits of Elaine" shows Pearl White at her best and is an excellent testimonial to the work of Arthur B. Reece, whose serial story is running in the Star-Bulletin each Saturday. A late release "Pathe Weekly" concludes the bill.

REVIVE SONGS AND DANCES AT TWO CONCERTS

Among the attractions of the coming week are the Hawaiian entertainments to be given by the Young People's League as part of the Kamehameha week celebration.

June 11, Kamehameha Day, is to be observed in a most fitting way by the Hawaiian and the performances at the Opera House on Thursday and Saturday nights of next week will prove very interesting, entertaining and educational to kamamias as well as malihinis. A splendid opportunity will be offered to hear fine native music by people who know how to render the songs of the islands. The customs of the people of olden days and their folk dances will be exhibited.

The Young People's League, under the direction of Charles E. King, has made a specialty of giving Hawaiian entertainments and all their affairs have been successful.

One of the numbers on the program of the coming entertainment is "the musical contest," in which several clubs are to participate with the view of showing the different kinds of native songs. Hawaiian music has a charm all its own and the beauty of the ancient and modern airs is to be brought out in this program number.

Methods of teaching in the early days will be shown in the act entitled "The Mission School." The costumes of the people, the style of singing, the manner of reciting the lessons and the stepping dances will all be entertaining and instructive.

In all countries interest in things which belong to early history is being aroused and the Young People's League is trying its best to bring to the attention of the people of Hawaii the legends, stories, music, dances and customs of the original inhabitants of these islands. This is the aim of the observance of Kamehameha week, and the entertainments of June 10 and 12 will contribute towards the realization of this hope.

WOMEN HAVE TO SMILE

In a great many cases and try to make those around them happy, while they are racked with the pain of organic trouble. Few men realize how common such heroism is. The remedy for this condition is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—a simple remedy made from roots and herbs, which for 40 years has been overcoming the most obstinate ills of women. Every woman suffering from female ills owes it to herself and family to give it a fair trial.—Adv.

tomorrow could have been done today. Artificial roses are never so unnatural as when they bloom on a girl's cheeks.

SHOWS NEW CITY AS RISEN FROM RUINS OF FIRE

It is seldom that a great city is taken as the subject for a film drama. Such, however, is the case with "The Pageant of San Francisco," the five-part photo-spectacle which Manager Bredhoff is showing at the Popular theater this week as his headliner.

This picture chronicles the history of the City of the Golden Gate since its discovery. The thrilling events that have gone to make history follow each other in interesting sequence, until with a beautiful panorama of the Panama-Pacific Exposition the picture ends.

Portola, the discoverer, the pious Father Junipero Serra, the Franciscan monk, who named the little settlement St. Francis, and many other historic characters figure in the scenes. In the making of the pictures the municipal authorities assisted the producers, and in striking contrast to the views of the city of yesterday are the glimpses of the modern San Francisco.

The stretches of the new city that was built over the ruins of the earthquake and are shown, and after the panorama of the exposition the story is brought to a close with a view of the sun sinking behind the hills of the Golden Gate.

From the standpoint of education "The Pageant of San Francisco" should make the matinees at the Popular this week especially attractive for school children.

Much Business for New Line.
Portland is to be included in the itinerary of a new line comprising six modern freighters, which will go into service this fall between Boston and Pacific Coast ports, operated by the Emery Steamship Company of the Massachusetts metropolis and Hind, Rolph & Co. of San Francisco. At least four or five of the steamers will have capacity for handling 4,000,000 feet of lumber at a trip, as they will be 8000 tons burden. Announcement of the proposed establishment of the service was made by W. H. Randall, president of the Emery Steamship Company.
